3Q2024 results

Total income at a record level

Total income (in € mln)

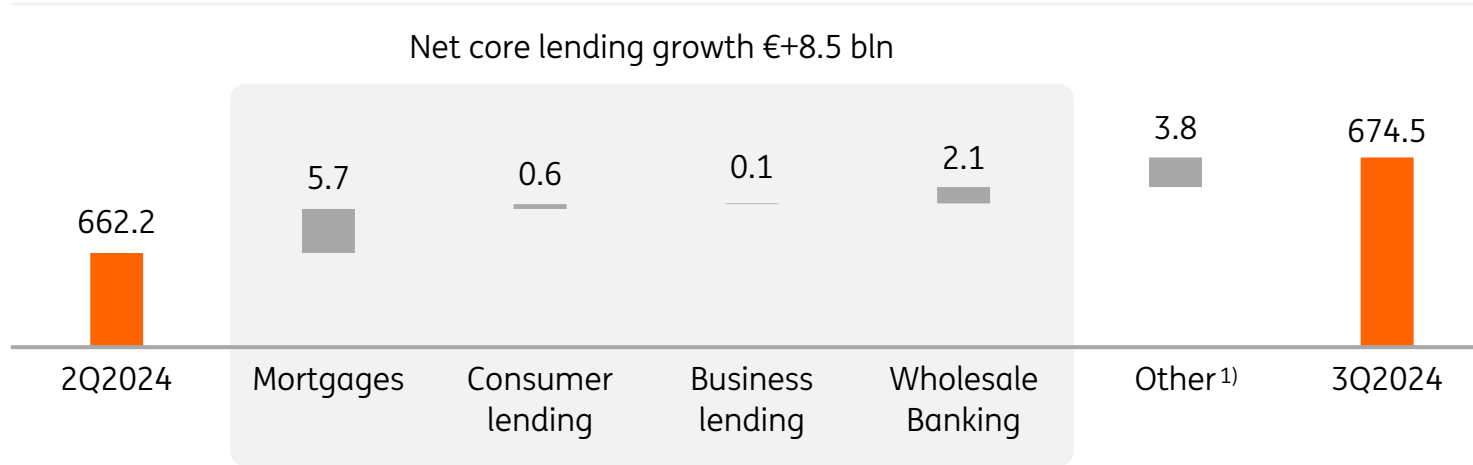

Key developments

- Total income at a record level
- Resilient core net interest income, driven by continued growth in customer balances
- Strong performance in fee income in both Retail and Wholesale Banking
- Financial markets continued to show good performance
- Treasury and Other increased due to the annual dividend from our stake in the Bank of Beijing and a €77 mln gain as our share in the one-off profit of an associate

Customer balances continue to increase

Customer lending (in € bln)

Customer deposits (in € bln)

Main drivers

- Strong growth in customer lending
 - Growth in Retail Banking mainly driven by strong performance in mortgages across all markets
 - Continued growth in both consumer and business lending
 - In Wholesale Banking, growth in Lending and Financial Markets was partly offset by ongoing efforts to optimise capital usage
- Successful deposit gathering
 - Growth in Retail Banking mostly driven by a successful campaign in Belgium and growth outside the eurozone, partly offset by seasonal outflows and the end of a campaign in Germany
 - Inflow in Wholesale Banking driven by targeted growth in PCM

¹⁾ Other includes movements in the Treasury and run-off portfolios as well as currency impacts

Resilient net interest income from lending and liabilities

3Q2024 NII development (in € mln)

- The decrease in net interest income was driven by volatility in Treasury-related income
- Liability net interest income increased driven by higher volumes at stable margins
- Lending net interest income was slightly lower (particularly in Wholesale Banking) as volume growth largely compensated for lower margins

¹⁾ One-offs in 2Q2024 included a €-39 mln impact from the Polish mortgage moratorium and a €70 mln income in Wholesale Banking

Net interest margin impacted by Treasury

Net interest income (in € mln)

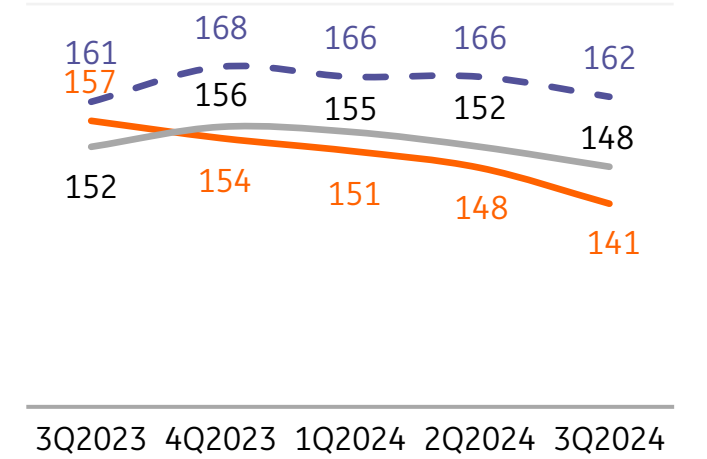

- Lending NII
- Liability NII
- Other NII¹⁾

Lending and liability margin (in bps)

- Average lending margin
- Average liability margin

Net interest margin (in bps)

- Quarterly NIM
- 4-quarter rolling average NIM
- 4-quarter rolling average NIM (adjusted)²⁾

- Liability margin supported by the replicating portfolio
- Lending margin volatility due to growth in a lower risk corporate segment, some one-offs in the previous quarter and ongoing efforts to improve capital usage in Wholesale Banking
- NIM decreased to 141 bps, mainly attributable to lower Treasury-related interest income, one-offs in the previous quarter and a lower lending margin
- 3Q2024 net interest income supports our guidance for the upper end of the €16.1 - €16.6 bln range for full year 2024²⁾

²⁾ Excluding the impact of accounting asymmetry (see slide 24 for more details)

Continued strong liability margin in a lower rate environment

- 3m EURIBOR (forward curve June 2024)

Replicating income on Retail eurozone customer deposits

Interest income in € bln¹⁾

- Replicating income (forward curve September)
- Replicating income (forward curve June)

- Replicating income represents the gross investment return on customer deposits, without taking into account deposit costs²⁾
- Every 10 bps of pass-through on savings and term deposits has an impact of ~€-0.4 bln on NII

Total liability margin to stabilise at a 100-110 bps

Average liability margin in bps¹⁾

- Total average liability margin

- The total liability margin covers³⁾
 - RB eurozone (€~490 bln)
 - RB non-eurozone (€~90 bln)
 - WB excl. FM (€~60 bln)
- >70% of RB deposits are savings / term deposits

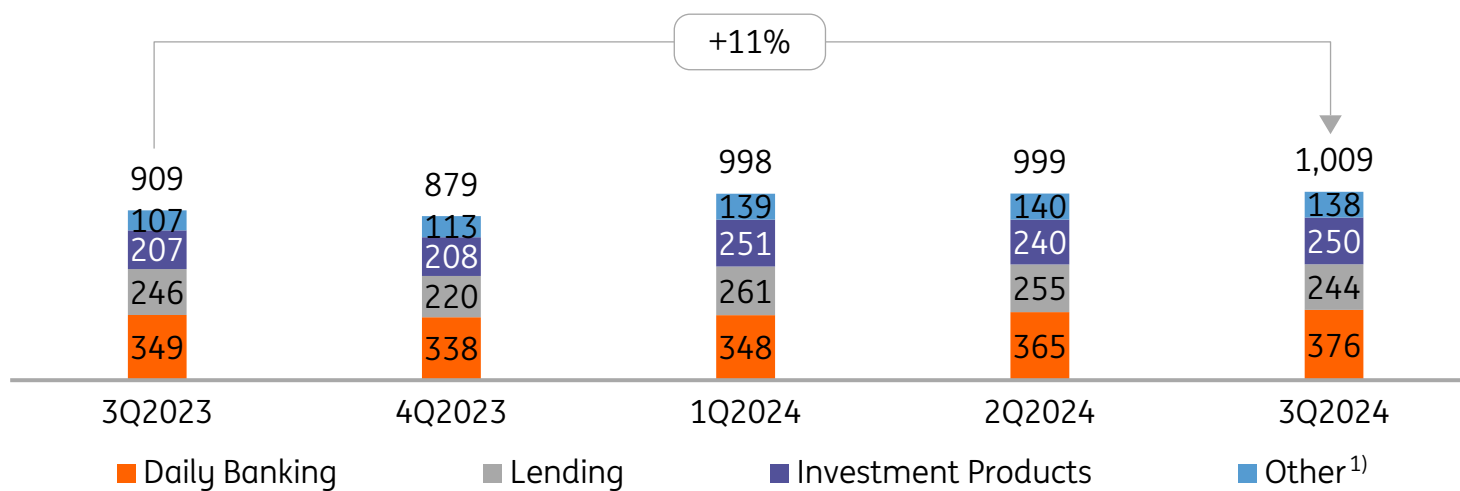

¹⁾ The illustrative scenario assumes 3-4% of annual deposit growth

²⁾ Actual average pass-through during 3Q2024 was ~34% (~125 bps total deposit costs). The total costs for only savings and term deposits combined was ~164 bps (~44% pass-through)

³⁾ All excluding Treasury

Double-digit fee income growth to over one billion euro in 3Q2024

Net fee & commission income per product category (in € mln)

Retail assets under management & e-brokerage (in € bln)

Main drivers

- Strong structural year-on-year growth in fee income, driven by Retail Banking
 - +0.9 mln mobile primary customers
 - 9% growth in active investment product customers to 4.6 mln
 - 10% increase in the average number of trades per quarter per customer to 2.9 in 2024 YTD
 - 9% increase in daily banking fees
 - 11% increase in insurance fees
- Increase in Wholesale Banking fees mainly from strong deal flow in Global Capital Markets and Corporate Finance

¹⁾ Other includes insurance products and Financial Markets

Sustained focus on costs, while making investments in the business

Development operating expenses (in € bln)

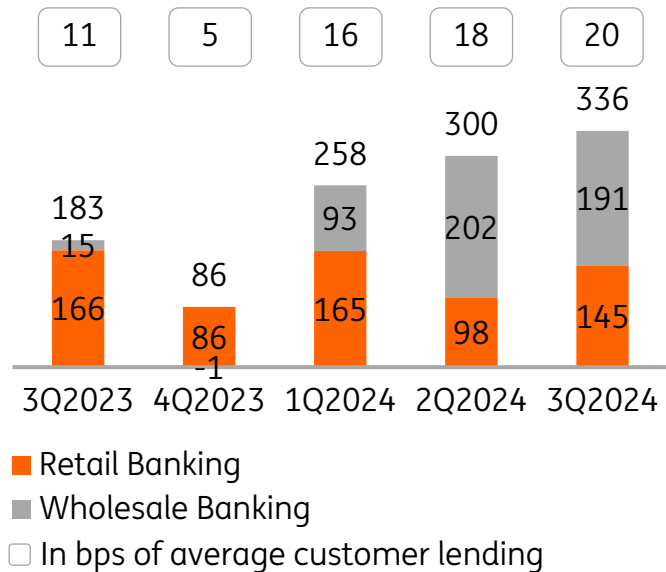

- Total expenses in line with our 2024 guidance of ~€12 bln
- Continued investments in our product foundations, as well as in building and scaling our Tech platform are mostly offset by operational efficiencies and lower regulatory costs
- Increase in 2024 is mainly attributable to the impact of inflation on staff expenses and higher VAT in the Netherlands

¹⁾ Operating expenses excluding regulatory costs and incidental items

²⁾ 2024 YTD incidental expense items include €55 mln restructuring costs in Retail Banking Belgium and €14 mln hyperinflation accounting

Risk costs at the through-the-cycle average

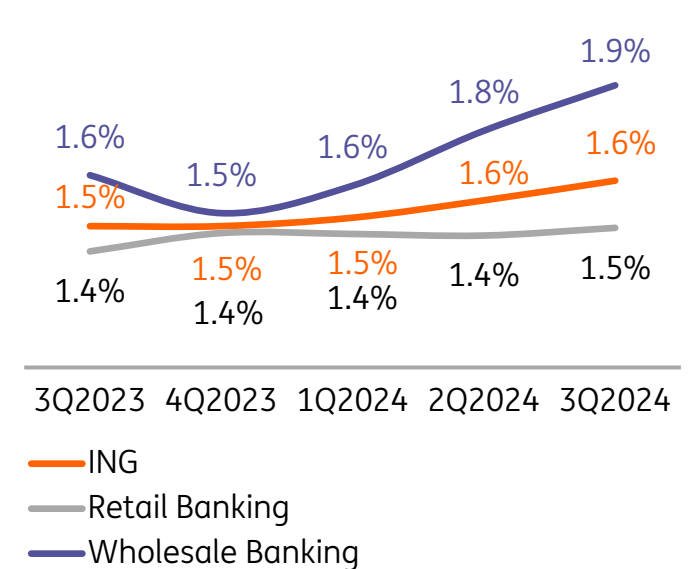

Risk costs per business line (in € mln)¹⁾

Stage 2 ratio

Stage 3 ratio

- Risk costs were €336 mln, or 20 bps of average customer lending, equal to the through-the-cycle average of ~20 bps
- Net additions to Stage 3 provisions of €453 mln were largely due to additions for a few new and existing files in Wholesale Banking
- Total Stage 1 and Stage 2 risk costs were €-117 mln, reflecting some model updates in Retail Banking and a partial release of management overlays²⁾
- Stage 2 ratio decreased, mainly driven by Wholesale Banking, following repayments and transfer of exposures to Stage 3, and a low level of new inflows

²⁾ Total stock of management overlays of €284 mln in 3Q2024

Capital ratio increased due to strong profitability and lower RWA

CET1 capital ratio development (in %)

- CET1 ratio increased to 14.3%, due to strong profitability and lower risk-weighted assets
- Risk-weighted assets decreased by €2.5 bln, including a decrease of €1.6 bln due to FX impacts
 - Changes in the profile of the loan book (€-1.8 bln)
 - An increase in exposure (€3.6 bln)
 - A partial reversal of previous quarter's impact (€-1.9 bln)
 - A decrease in market risk-weighted assets of €0.5 bln
- The announced €2.5 bln distribution will have a pro forma impact of 76 bps on the CET1 ratio
 - €500 mln cash dividend to be paid on 16 January 2025

Accounting asymmetry impacting net interest income

Treasury interest rate differential (in € mln)

- Treasury benefited from favourable market opportunities through money market and FX transactions
- These activities had a negative impact on net interest income, which was more than offset by a positive impact in other income
- The magnitude of this accounting asymmetry depends on the volume of trades and the interest rate differential between the euro and other currencies (mostly US dollar)

Wholesale Banking Financial Markets (in € mln)

- Increasing interest rates led to higher funding costs, resulting in a reduction in net interest income, while other income, related to the opposite position, rose significantly
- This accounting asymmetry is more pronounced in a positive rate environment and is also influenced by volume and product mix developments

Granular customer deposit base

Total customer deposits per segment (in € bln)

- Highly insured, granular and continuously growing customer deposits represent a strong funding base
 - ~70% of total deposits is from private individuals, of which ~85% is DGS-covered
- Strong focus on Retail Banking, diversified across >39 mln private individuals in 10 countries
 - Average private individual account balance of ~€15,000

Retail deposits per product (in € bln)

Hyperinflation accounting in Türkiye

Application of IAS 29 to consolidation of ING in Türkiye

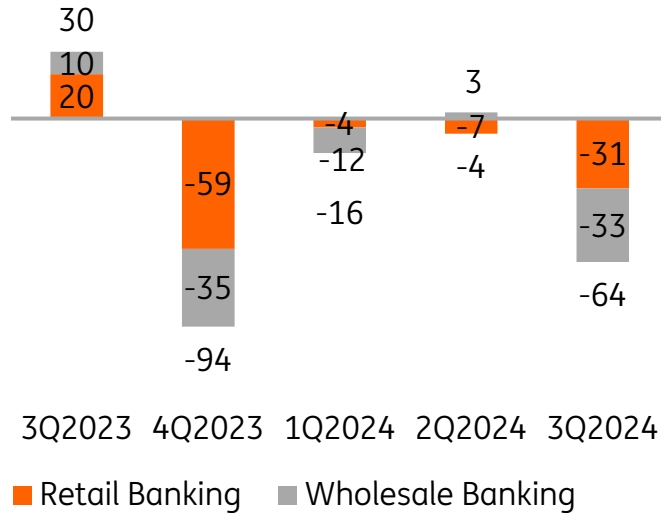

- We applied IAS 29 ('Financial Reporting in Hyperinflationary Economies') to the consolidation of our subsidiary in Türkiye, effective as of 1 January 2022, as cumulative inflation in Türkiye over the preceding three years had exceeded 100%
- The application of IAS 29 resulted in a negative accounting impact on ING net result in 3Q2024 of €-36 mln, reflecting the adjustments for changes in the general purchasing power of the Turkish lira
- The impact on CET1 capital is slightly positive as the negative impact on P&L is offset by a positive adjustment in equity
- Resilient net profit and shareholders' distribution has not been affected as the total quarterly P&L impact of €-36 mln was treated as a significant item not linked to the normal course of business, in line with ING's distribution policy
