

Ljiljana Čortan

Chief risk officer
Member Executive Board
Member Management Board Banking

Born in 1971 Croatian nationality

Profile

Ljiljana Čortan is chief risk officer (CRO) and member of the Executive Board and the Management Board Banking since April 2021. Ljiljana is responsible for ING's risk activities, including formulating our risk framework and risk appetite, risk culture and awareness, risk governance and policies and compliance.

Most important other ancillary positions

None.

Education

Ljiljana holds a master's degree in business finance from the University of Zagreb.

Career

2021-present	26 April 2021 CRO and member of the Executive Board. 1 January 2021 CRO and member of the Management Board Banking.
2018-2020	Member of the Management Board and CRO, HypoVereinsbank (HVB) - UniCredit Bank, Germany.
2014-2017	Global head of Financial Institutions, Banks and Sovereigns, head of Group Credit Transactions Officer, UniCredit Bank, Italy (Milan branch).
2009-2014	Head of strategy and marketing for corporate and investment banking in the CEE region, UniCredit Bank, Austria.
1996-2009	Various positions in risk management, corporate banking and project/information management at Zagrebačka banka, Croatia (Zagrebačka banka became part of UniCredit) Group in 2002.

