ING has flexibility to comply with expected TLAC requirements

TLAC requirements 1 January 2019 (fully loaded, in %)

  - Additional TLAC: ~4%
    - T2: 2.6%
    - AT1: 2.0%

The Financial Stability Board's TLAC proposals

- The final TLAC proposal was published in November 2015
- Assuming TLAC requirements at 21.5% (including buffers) by 1 January 2019, ING is well placed to meet these
- Given the sizeable amount of long-term debt maturing in the next few years, ING has ample flexibility to comply with the expected TLAC requirements
- Minimum TLAC RWA requirement is currently more constraining than minimum TLAC leverage requirement
- Since the Systemic Risk Buffer of 3% is applied to ING Group (and not to ING Bank), we took the prudent approach to calculate TLAC for ING Group
- No decision has been taken as to the preferred resolution strategy pending regulatory discussions and developments

* Minimum TLAC requirement will increase to 18% as per 1 January 2022
 Grandfathered securities expected to be replaced by CRD IV compliant hybrids in the coming years
Additional Tier 1: comfortable buffers to triggers

Buffer to MDA 1Q16*

- MDA restrictions will apply if ING Group breaches Combined Buffer Requirements (CBR). SREP CET1 requirement (9.5%) have come into force, while SRB (3%) is being phased-in over four annual instalments.
- As per end-March 2016, the buffer to the 2016 MDA restriction level is EUR 8.8 bln or 2.75% of RWAs.
- MDA framework is currently under review and could be subject to change.

Buffer to Conversion Trigger 1Q16 (in EUR bln)*

- The ING Group phased-in capital buffer to conversion trigger (7% CET1) is high at EUR 19.2 bln.

Available Distributable Items

- AT1 discretionary distributions may only be paid out of distributable items.
- As per end-2015, ING Group had EUR 36.2 bln of distributable items (~80x the FY15 coupon payments on Tier 1 capital), largely stable compared to the EUR 36.0 bln at end-2014.

* Buffer vs. 2016 CRR/CRDIV transitional rules
ING issues €1 bln Tier 2 with innovative issuer substitution option through exchange

Tier 2 deal highlights

- On April 6th 2016, ING issued Tier 2 bonds with an issuer substitution option through exchange. This gives ING flexibility as to the issuing entity.
- This is particularly relevant given that the National Resolution Authority has not given definitive guidance regarding the resolution strategy should a Dutch bank fail.
- ING has the option to replace the ING Bank Tier 2 notes for ING Group Tier 2 notes (similar terms) through exchange until April 2018. The Noteholders agree upfront in the T&Cs to transfer their Bank Tier 2 notes (in whole and not in part) in return for Group Tier 2 notes, upon notice given by ING.

- There is still regulatory uncertainty with respect to the future applicable framework, particularly the proposal of a revised standardised approach plus floors (‘Basel IV’) could have a material impact.
